Wilkes-Barre Congregations Reach Out to Others

Congregations in the city of Wilkes-Barre are helping others in special ways, thanks to you and your gifts to mission support.

The Wilkes Barre Free Clinic received a grant from the Witness and Service Ministry Team to help with their ministry to people who work but have no health insurance. The clinic, supported by Good Shepherd Lutheran Church and St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Wilkes Barre, purchases basic medications that can be distributed at the time of a patient's visit. In 2004, the clinic served 744 patients; in 2005, it served 1,066 patients.

Three congregations in downtown Wilkes-Barre joined together to sponsor a Bear Creek Day Camp. Good Shepherd, Messiah, and St. Mark Lutheran Churches, Wilkes Barre, received a grant from the Witness and Service Ministry Team for scholarship money for this downtown Wilkes Barre day camp.

Thanks to you, the Witness and Service Ministry Team is able to provide grants several times a year to congregations and groups addressing one or more of the team's priorities. Check out all the ways your mission support is at work through this team at www.godslove.org/people/ministry_teams/witness/witnessgrants.htm.
